

Design Concepts

#7.

The two forms are now in a type of dynamic rest expressing wholeness and love. There is a balance in the elements of up and down, left and right and front and back.

This location was chosen as it has height and oversees the site with wisdom. It also offers space for community activity and gatherings. As with this sculptural piece this location offers togetherness and freedom.